Annual Gala Ball

14 JUNE 2025

30 YEARS OF IMPACT

Impact can take many forms. It can be found in something as simple as a small act of kindness—an encouraging word, a moment of understanding, or a helping hand when it's most needed. These seemingly small gestures often have a profound effect, helping someone through a difficult day or a challenging moment. Kindness creates impact, and that impact ripples outward in ways we may never fully see.

How we measure kindness and impact varies greatly. For some, it's marked by clear milestones—an outstanding achievement, a job well done, or the ability to uplift others.

But for many, impact is deeply personal. It lives in the quiet victories and the unseen efforts that make a lasting difference.

At Giant Steps, making a difference is at the heart of everything we do. And the impact we see stretches far beyond any one student—it touches siblings, parents, extended families, and entire communities. The stories families share when they arrive at Giant Steps are often filled with pain: stories of rejection, fear, isolation, and a profound lack of understanding. But they are also stories of hope—because they've found a place that sees, understands, and embraces their child with care, expertise, and heart.

We welcome children and young adults with complex needs—many of whom arrive having been turned away elsewhere. Some cannot speak, others live with severe anxiety or behavioral and sensory challenges. What we offer is not only education, but understanding. We look beyond the individual to support the whole family, recognizing the many layers of impact they carry.

From the very first meeting, we let parents know they are not alone. They are joining a community built on deep professional expertise—from music, speech, and occupational therapists, to teachers and educational support staff. Even more than that, they are joining a family. A family of other parents who've walked this road, of supporters who believe in our mission, and of staff who celebrate every step forward—no matter how small.

One of the hardest things we do is ask for help. Even when we know people care and want to make a difference, it's never easy. That's why it means so much when help is simply offered—when someone reads a story, makes a donation, or shares their time or skills. Those acts of kindness fuel everything we do.

Because of your support, Giant Steps continues to grow. We continue to walk alongside our students as they build independence, gain life and vocational skills, and become active, valued members of their communities. Each one of those achievements—each Giant Step—is made possible by you and for that, we are endlessly grateful.

HENRI MATISSE "CUTOUT SERIES", 1958

Two colour lithographs after paper cut-out and gouache from Matisse's "Les Dernieres Oeuvres de Matisse" portfolio. In his late sixties, when ill health first prevented Matisse from painting, he began to cut into painted paper with scissors to make drafts for a number of commissions. In time, Matisse chose cut-outs over painting, and he had invented a new medium in combining the method with lithography.

TO GET OUR NEW ELANORA HEIGHTS SITE FULLY OPERATIONAL

Giant Steps is very excited to have purchased a new site at Elanora Heights this year. This beautiful 5.184-hectare sanctuary, surrounded by a native bushland reserve, presents incredible opportunities for our students, adult participants, and their families.

Formerly used as a community-focused conference and retreat facility, the site holds great potential. To ensure it fully meets the needs of our community and can be enjoyed to its fullest potential, it requires some upgrades.

Giant Steps plans to:

- Offer overnight respite by providing overnight accommodation on an individualised basis with weekday and weekend availability. A night away from home, which may not otherwise be possible, will provide respite to many struggling families and help participants get ready for living independently.
- Expand our Adult Autism Services program to meet the increasing demand.
- Provide a safe and tranquil location for outdoor education programs including swimming, bushwalking and rock climbing, as well as community access opportunities for all Giant Steps school-aged students and adult participants, including opportunities to attend camp.
- Offer weekend retreats for Giant Steps students and their families, where the entire family can relax and enjoy the benefits of the site in a safe and supportive environment.

We need your support to transform Elanora Heights into a fully operational haven for our students, adult participants, and their families.
